Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, September 16, 1762.

By Captain CALDWELL, from LONDONDERRY, we have the London Chronicle of the Firſt of July, in which there is the following moſt material Intelligence.

From the LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY.

ST. JAMES'S, June 30.

THIS Afternoon Lieut. Colonel Boyd, firſt Aid-de-Camp to Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick, arrived here, being diſpatched by his Serene Highneſs to the King, with the following Account of a Victory gained by his Majeſty's Forces under his Command, on the 24th Inſt. over the French Army commanded by the Marſhals D'Etrées and Soubize.

THE French Army has been ſurprized this Day in their Camp of Graebenſtein, by his Majeſty's Forces. The Marſhals D'Etrées and Soubize had encamped their Troops between that Place and Meinbrexen. The Center of their Army was poſted on a very advantageous Eminence, their left Wing inacceſſible by ſeveral deep Ravines, and their Right covered by Graebenſtein, ſeveral little Rivulets, and by a Body of Troops, under the Command of M. de Caſtries, poſted at Carlſdorff. Prince Ferdinand made the following Diſpoſitions for attacking the Enemy.

General Luckner, who was ſituated on the Leine, having Zimbeck in his Front, with ſix Battalions of Grenadiers, four Squadrons of Dragoons, and eight Squadrons of Huſſars, to obſerve Prince Xavier's Motions, who lay encamped with his Corps de Reſerve between the Werra and Gottingen, received Orders in the Night, between the 22d and 23d, to march to Gotſhuhren in the Reinharts-Wald, with the Grenadiers, four Squadrons of Horſe, and his own Regiment of Huſſars. The Heſſian Huſſars were ordered to remain near Mohringen, in Order to conceal his March, and to obſerve Prince Xavier. M. Luckner began his March from Hollenſtadt on the 23d at ſix in the Morning, got to Uſlar at Noon, paſſed the Weſer at Bodenfeldt at ſix in the Evening, and towards Night reached Gotſhuhren. He had Orders to proceed on the 24th, at three in the Morning, to Mariendorff, and to form between that Place and Udenhauſen.

M. de Sporcken paſſed the Dymel at Sielem, at four in the Morning, when twelve Battalions of Hanoverians, and part of the Cavalry of the left Wing, in Order to march by Reinharts-Wald, between Hombrexen and Udenhauſen. As ſoon as he had formed, he was to attack the Enemy's Corps, which was poſted at Cariſdorff, in Flank, while Luckner charged their Rear; and, if he ſucceeded, was to continue marching in ſuch Manner, as to take the Enemy's Camp at Graebenſtein, both in Flank and Rear.

Prince Ferdinand paſſed the Dymel at four in the Morning, with twelve Battalions of the Engliſh, eleven Battalions of Brunſwickers, and eight Heſſian Regiments, together with the Engliſh Cavalry, and part of the German Cavalry of the left Wing, with an Intent to draw up behind the Ponds of Kalſe.

The Picquets of the Army formed the Van Guard on the Left, and the Chaſſeurs of the Engliſh and German Infantry, commanded by Lord Frederick Cavendiſh, with Freytagh's Hanoverian Chaſſeurs, that of the Right, in Order to ſeize upon the Langenberg.

The Marquis of Granby was to paſs the Dymel at Warbourg, between two and three o'Clock in the Morning, with the Reſerve under his Command, to march by Zieremberg and Zieberſhauſen, upon the Eminence which is oppoſite to Furſtenwald, in order to fall upon the left Wing of the Enemy. This whole Plan was put in Execution. We were in Preſence of the Enemy before they had the leaſt Apprehenſion of being attacked. However, M. de Caſtries had Time to retreat, and did it with a very ſmall Loſs.

Prince Ferdinand came on in the Center, & gained Ground. The Enemy, ſeeing themſelves attacked in Front, in Flank, and in Rear, were not long in taking their Part: They ſtruck their Tents, and retreated, Prince Ferdinand purſued and preſſed upon them as cloſe as poſſible; and they would, without doubt, have been intirely routed, if M. de Stainville had not thrown himſelf, with the Grenadiers of France, the Royal Grenadiers, the Regiment of Aquitaine, and other Corps, being the Flower of the French Infantry, into the Woods of Wilhelmſtahl, to cover their Retreat. That Reſolution coſt him dear; his whole Infantry having been taken, killed, or diſperſed, after a very gallant Defence, excepting two Battalions, which found Means to get off. Some of thoſe Troops had before ſurrendered to Lord Granby's Corps; and, upon the coming up of the Army, the Remainder, after one Fire, ſurrendered to the 5th Regiment of Foot.

Lord Granby acquitted himſelf upon this Occaſion, with remarkable Valour, and had a great Share in the Victory.

All the Troops behaved extremely well, and ſhewed great Zeal and Willingneſs; but particularly the firſt Battalion of Grenadiers, belonging to Colonel Beckwith's Brigade, which diſtinguiſhed itſelf extremely.

The Enemy's Army retreated under the Cannon of Caſſel; and a great Part of it paſſed very haſtily over the Fulda.

We have taken between Two and Three Thouſand Priſoners, ſeveral Standards and Colours. M. Reideſel attacked, beat, and totally overthrew the Regiment of Fitz-James, took 300 of their Horſes, and their two Standards.

Our Loſs in Men is very inconſiderable, amounting only to between 2 and 300; and we have no Officer of Diſtinction killed, except Colonel Townſhend.

The French Infantry conſiſted of 100 Battalions, and the Allies had no more than 60.

Among the French Priſoners taken in the Action, there are upwards of 200 Officers. The following is a Liſt of ſuch of them as we have hitherto been able to procure an Account of.

Of the Swiſs Regiment of Epthingue,	— —	2

Among the foregoing, there were a Brigadier, and ſeveral Colonels.

This glad News was announced to the Public at a Quarter after Five in the Afternoon, by the firing of the Guns at the Tower and in the Park. In the Evening there were Bonfires and Illuminations in divers Parts of London and Weſtminſter.

BOSTON, Auguſt 26.

Monday laſt arrived at Marblehead Capt. St. Barbe, in about 7 Weeks from Liſbon: He brings no Account of an Action off Cadiz; but ſays that Admiral Saunders, with his Squadron, was cruiſing off that Port. Nor had there been a general Action wherein the Spaniards were defeated, as was reported by Way of New-York, and publiſhed lately in the Papers: However, the laſt Accounts from Portugal are very favourable; for it is ſaid in Letters from Liſbon, That the Number of Deſerters from the Spaniſh Army are almoſt incredible, which encourage the Portugueſe Troops greatly: The Reaſon of this great Deſertion is ſaid to be the Want of Bread among the Spaniards: That the main Body of the Spaniſh Army had retreated a conſiderable Way from the Frontiers of Portugal: That General Crawford, with what Britiſh Troops he had, followed them, and made a Stand, until the Troops which were hourly expected from Belleiſle joined him. Some Regiments were alſo expected from Ireland.

Yeſterday ſeveral Ships, Snows, and Brigantines, beſides a Number of Sloops and Schooners, arrived in this Port: Nine of the Veſſels were from Halifax, and had on board above 700 French Neutrals (commonly ſo called) that were collected from ſeveral Parts of Nova-Scotia, and ſent here.

Auguſt 30. Laſt Thurſday Night arrived here a Brig in 21 Days from St. John's, in Newfoundland, having on board a Number of Men, Women and Children, late Inhabitants of that Place, together with about 50 Regulars belonging to the Garriſon, but no Officer of any Note.—This Veſſel was ſent from St. John's, in order to proceed for England, and was commanded by Frenchmen, but not having Proviſion for ſuch a Voyage, they confined the Captain and Mate, and brought the Veſſel to this Port, and when they got in here, they had expended all their Proviſion, except Bread and Water:—By this Brig we learn, that the French are ſtill fortifying the Place, and even oblige the Engliſh to work daily on the Fort, one of which refuſing, was inſtantly ſhot dead on the Spot by a Frenchman.

The Brig Thœtis, Captain Hale, bound from St. Chriſtophers to Piſcataqua, was taken in Lat. 31, Long. 64, on the 8th Inſt. by the Prince of Auſtria Privateer of Porto Rico, John Tyrrell, Commander, and ranſomed; the above Privateer ſailed from St. Croix the latter End of July, in order to cruize between the Capes of Virginia and New-York, has 10 Carriage Guns, and 76 Men, and had taken two other Veſſels, viz. the Brig Graham, Joſeph Fulgham, from Boſton to New Providence, and the Sloop Victory, Joſeph Kennecut, from Guadaloupe to Rhode-Iſland, which Veſſels were alſo ranſomed: The latter for 2000 Pieces of Eight.

NEW-YORK, September 2.

Copy of a Letter to a Gentleman in Halifax, dated Liverpool, in Nova-Scotia, Auguſt 4, 1762.

"You find by the Date hereof that I have got into your Neighbourhood, occaſioned by the Misfortune I had of being taken on the 29th of May laſt, in the Ship Fairview, bound from Liverpool in England, to New-York, in Lat. 48, and Long. 32, from London, by three Sail of French Men of War, and a Storeſhip, who carried me and my Veſſel into Newfoundland, the Capital of which, they have taken without firing a Gun, and as I was ſhipped and re-ſhipped from one Man of War to another, before they made Land, I had an Opportunity of knowing their Force, Situation, and ſome of their further Intentions, which I now take the Opportunity of tranſmitting to you, for Want of Knowledge of the commanding Officer at your Place (as Mr. Ellis, your Governor, I know is not yet arrived on the Continent) deſiring it as a Favour, being a Duty I owe to my Country, your communicating the ſame to him, and the greateſt Satisfaction I can receive will be to find it of Service, and it may be depended on as true, viz.

Le Robuſte, of 74 Guns, Chev. Le Tournay Commodore, 300 Soldiers. L' Eveille, 64, 250 Soldiers. Le Licorne 28, Monſ. Celler, 80 Soldiers. Le Garonne, a Store Ship, 26 Guns, M. Clonard, 250 Soldiers, in all 880 Land Forces, Officers included. M. Clonard, alias Connor, is an Iriſh Man, and has been but two Years in the French Service. It was given out at St. John's, that he was to be Governor, whereupon 161 of the Iriſh Paſſengers, taken in different Veſſels, who were in the late Mutiny in Ireland, called White Boys, being afraid to return to their own Country, inliſted in the French Service, on board the Garonne, and other Men of War, as they intend to leave about 730 Soldiers in the Garriſon, unleſs they take Placentia, and then they will leave 500 at St. John's, and 300 at Placentia, and take what Iriſh and others they can get to help to work their Veſſels, for I can aſſure you, that on board the 74 Gun Ship they have not 90 Seamen, and the others are as badly manned, the Remainder of their Complements being made up of Landmen and Boys, who are half dead Wretches. The Licorne was to ſail in a few Days after I left the Place, which was about a Fortnight ago, but could not learn whereto: However, I ſuppoſe it is to meet 2 Store Ships, of about 900 Tons each, which came out of Breſt with the Fleet, and went to Bourdeaux to load Proviſions & other Stores for them. The lower Fort at St. John's was deſtroyed; but on the Commodore's coming in they ſet to to rebuild it, and have made another Row of Pickets round the Grand Fort, and have erected a 3 Gun Battery on the Shore, to the Northward of the Chain Rock, about 50 Yards from it, and fixed a Chain, which they brought from France, with Booms at the Entrance of the Harbour, in the ſame Place as uſual. The Enemy have fitted out ſix Sloops and Schooners with Land Forces, &c. to go round the Iſland, to burn and deſtroy, &c. M. Galiſſoniere, who is third Lieutenant of the Robuſte, to retrieve the Character of his Uncle Galiſſoniere, whom Admiral Hawke trapanned, has undertaken an Expedition with Sloops and Schooners, againſt Placentia, where, I hope, he will meet with his Family's Fate. When I was taken I was carried on board the Robuſte, where I found Captain J. Johnſton, of the Ship Sally, who was bound from London to New-York, and was taken by the aforeſaid Fleet on the 26th of May, and Captain F. Hearn, of the Sloop Dolphin, who was bound from Dartmouth to Newfoundland. I found the aforeſaid Hearn often telling the Officers and Ship's Crew of the Robuſte, that he was well acquainted with every Harbour and Creek in the Land, and on or about the 12th of June, he, the aforeſaid Hearn, told me, that the Commodore, Chev. Tournay, and the General of the Land Forces, had been examining him about St. John's, in Newfoundland, and other Harbours contiguous thereto, and offered, nay aſſured him, that if he would Pilot the Fleet into St. John's, or other Places in the Land, they would give him a good Ship and Cargo for his Trouble; the ſaid Hearn told me he would Pilot them into the Bay of Bulls, or ſome other Bays, I am not certain of the Names, if he was ſure they would not go to Ferryland, or ſome other Harbour, as his Owner's Son, and other of his Friends, lived there. For there was a Merchant in that Bay that had injured him, and was, as he expreſſed it, a damn'd Rogue, and often ſaid that the whole Land was peopled with Whores and Rogues. That on or about the 17th of June, at 11 o'Clock at Night, the French Linguiſter came down into the Hold, where Capt. Hearn and I lay, and wanted him to go to the Commodore, which he did, and ſtayed away about one or two Hours. That on the 18th of June, or thereabouts, being the very next Day, Mr. John Caton, my chief Mate, and I were ordered overboard in half an Hours warning, without any Reaſon being aſſigned for it, and I could not ſurmiſe any, excepting that I told the aforeſaid Hearn, at ſeveral Times, if he piloted, or gave the Enemy any Intelligence to the Prejudice of his Mother Country, he ſhould certainly be hanged; and on Thurſday June 24, the Fleet followed the Commodore into the Bay of Bulls, excepting the Garonne, who was piloted by another Perſon; where they took the Brig Elizabeth, Capt. Mandiville, from Waterford in Ireland, and after taking out about one half of her Cargo, the Commodore and General gave her to the aforeſaid Capt. Hearn. Henry Southerland, Boatſwain of the Ship Sally (belonging to Mr. Buchanan aforeſaid) informed me, that Capt. Hearn, after he got into the Bay of Bulls, told him, that he had agreed to pilot the Fleet, and at the ſame Time told him on what Terms, and to what Places he was to go, and every Thing relating thereto. It is to be obſerved, that from the Morning the Commodore made the Land, all the Priſoners on board, excepting Capt. Hearn, who ſtaid on Deck, were kept cloſe confined in the Hold, until the Ship was at Anchor in the Bay of Bulls; into which Place James Reynolds, Commander of the Schooner Litchet (belonging to Mr. Nathaniel Brooks in Pool) ſtood Pilot for the Garonne, and Moſes Cahon, from Waterford in Ireland (who was Owner of the aforeſaid Elizabeth, Capt. Mandiville) aſſiſted in piloting the Commodore into St. John's, as ſhe would certainly have been on Shore on a Place called Waſh Ballacks, on the North Side of the Entrance of the Harbour, had he not told them to wear Ship, and work her round; and when the Fleet got in, the Chevalier de Tournay gave him his Choice of any Veſſel in the Harbour, and he accordingly got a fine new Ship of 170 Tons, which Capt. Whey, or Wayland, commanded, and who had arrived but a few Days from Waterford."

Sept. 6. About 9 o'Clock laſt Night, Capt. Branſcomb arrived here from St. John's, in Newfoundland, in a Sloop, with 78 Men, Women and Children, belonging to the different Inhabitants of that Place: He left St. John's the 12th of Auguſt, with Proviſions ſcarce enough for one Week, but he put into Ferryland, and got a ſmall Supply: He confirms the Inhumanity of the French to the Engliſh Inhabitants, and that between 4 and 500 of the Fiſhermen were obliged to enter into the French Service or ſtarve; that ſeveral Parties of the French Soldiers had deſerted, and gone to the Engliſh at Placentia, and other Places; and that a Letter of Marque Schooner, from Madeira, was taken off St. John's Harbour by three Boats from the Men of War, about the 9th of Auguſt.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9.

It is ſaid, that the Viceroy of Mexico, and Governor of Carthagena, were at the Havannah all the Time of the Siege: That the Governor of the Havannah ſhould have ſaid, That Providence had taken the Place; for that during the Time he had reſided there, he never knew a Month, in which there were not Gales of Wind ſufficient to have drove the Engliſh Fleet on Shore, until the Siege commenced: That the Spaniſh Officers, it was reported, went to their Governor, in the Time of the general Attack on the Eleventh of Auguſt, and told him, That the Engliſh Fire was ſo hot, there was no Poſſibility of ſtanding by their Guns with any Safety; and that they could not, nor would not, do it any longer: And that during the ten Hours our Batteries played on the Town and Fortifications, 600 Spaniards were killed; but that the Town was not much damaged, the Firing being chiefly againſt their Forts.

N. B. On the 29th of July, a Spaniſh 36 Gun Frigate, which enfiladed our Lines, and retarded the finiſhing our Batteries, was ſunk in the Harbour; but, in leſs than an Hour's Time, her Place was ſupplied by a 74 Gun Ship.

In Addition to the foregoing, we have Advice by the Men of War and Tranſports arrived at New-York from the Havannah, as follows, viz.

"That there were Five Million Sterling, in Specie, found in the Spaniſh Treaſury; and 'twas thought as much more would be got, which had been conveyed into the Country: That two Galeons likewiſe were taken in the Harbour, and one French 74 Gun Ship: That four Dutch Veſſels arrived at the Havannah two Days before our Fleet appeared off, loaded with Ammunition; and 'tis thought without their Aſſiſtance the Spaniards could not have held out above a few Days: That there were ſeven Spaniſh Men of War of the Line on float in the Harbour; and two of the Line, and one Frigate ſunk: That there were two other Frigates burnt, the one by Lightning, the other by our Shells; That the Spaniſh Garriſon was all embarking for Spain as faſt as poſſible; our Troops not to enter the Town till they were gone: That we loſt a conſiderable Number of Officers and private Men during the Siege; and that the Royal Highland Regiment alone loſt no leſs than 17 Officers, and Mr. Johnſon, their Chaplain.

"There were 30 Sail of Tranſports left the Havannah for that Port, having the 17th Regiment, the two Battalions of Royal Highlanders, and Montgomery's on board, moſtly ſick; but only 15 arrived there, with their Convoy, the Enterprize, of 40 Guns, and Porcupine Men of War, having parted with the others two Days after they left the Havannah; who, 'twas imagined, joined the Fleet from Jamaica of 100 Sail, then beating through for Europe."

Extract of a Letter from New-York, Sept. 6, 1762.

JOURNAL of the Siege of the Havannah, from July 30.

"July 30. ABOUT Ten o'Clock the Mine was ſprung. At firſt it was thought not practicable; but it was attempted, and carried, when 150 were killed in the Caſtle, 300 made Priſoners, and many loſt in the Water. The gallant Don Valeſco, Governor of the Caſtle, was wounded; and Don Gonſales, Lieutenant-Governor, killed.

"July 31. A Flag was ſent, with Thanks, for the Tenderneſs ſhewn Don Valeſco, and deſiring the Body of Don Gonſales, which could not be found.

"Auguſt 1. A Number of Batteries were begun to be erected againſt the Ponto and the Town.

"Auguſt 11. A moſt tremendous Fire, from all the Batteries, began at Five o'Clock in the Morning, which occaſioned the Governor to deſire to capitulate.——The Execution done by this Firing was ſcarcely credible.

"Auguſt 12, Was taken up in Meſſages and Anſwers.——The Spaniſh Admiral was extremely averſe to giving up his Ships, which was inſiſted on. But, at laſt, the Spaniſh Governor accepted all the Terms that Lord Albemarle would grant, which amounted almoſt to a Charte Blanche, and the Engliſh Army took Poſſeſſion of the Havannah.——The Capitulation included all that Part of the Iſland, which was under the Juriſdiction of the Governor of the Havannah.——Our whole Loſs is as follows, viz. 400 killed, 600 wounded, 200 of which died, and 700 dead by Sickneſs."

Copy of a Letter from the Governor of the HAVANNAH, to LORD ALBEMARLE.

"The humane Offers I received from your Excellency in your Letter Yeſterday, I find myſelf obliged to liſten to, by the Cries of the Inhabitants, who have experienced the Miſeries of War; therefore the Sentiments I expreſſed to your Excellency, of holding out the Place to the laſt Extremity, are altered. I now intreat your Excellency for a Truce of Hoſtilities for the Space of 24 Hours, during which Time no Works ſhall be carried on in the Fortifications of the City, that I may regulate and ſubmit to your Excellency, the Articles of Capitulation, by which I am ready to ſurrender the City.——May God preſerve you many Years. (Signed) JUAN DEL PRADO."

Our other HAVANNAH Intelligence from NEW-YORK is as follows,

"That Eight Millions, in Specie, had been counted, and more expected to be found. That when the Reinforcements arrived from New-York, they were ſo much wanted, that it was thought the Place could not have been taken without them, there being but about 3000 fit for Duty. That after the laſt Mine was ſprung at the Caſtle, the Breach would hardly admit three Men, and if well defended, could not have been taken at that Time.——That the Spirit and Ardour of our Seamen, during the Siege, was of the utmoſt Conſequence. That Lord Albemarle has declared, the Booty taken at the Havannah, ſhall be equally divided among the Land and Sea Forces. That the Shares of the two principal Officers will amount to above 12,000 l. per Annum. That Lord Albemarle will ſail for England about the Firſt of October. That the Engliſh Ships at the Havannah, on the Surrender, were 16 Frigates, and 22 Ships of the Line, beſides Captain Campbell, who was broke. That the Spaniſh Fleet, at the Capitulation, the 13th of Auguſt, was 12 Ships of the Line, and three on the Stocks; three of the Ships were ſunk at the Harbour's Mouth, and two of their Commanders killed. That the Spaniards had 6000 Sick: That the Spaniſh Seamen were chiefly employed in the Sallies, and behaved admirably: And that their Blacks fought the Guns."
